PLAINTIFF GEORGE KENNETH SCHOPP’S FIRST AMENDED CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

1. George Kenneth Schopp (“Plaintiff”) brings this action to enforce the consumer-privacy provisions of the Telephone Consumer Protection Act (“TCPA”), a federal statute enacted in 1991 in response to widespread public outrage about the proliferation of intrusive, nuisance telemarketing practices. See Mims v. Arrow Fin. Servs., LLC, 132 S. Ct. 740, 745 (2012).

2. “Voluminous consumer complaints about abuses of telephone technology – for example, computerized calls dispatched to private homes – prompted Congress to pass the TCPA.” Id. at 744. In enacting the TCPA, Congress intended to give consumers a choice as to how creditors and telemarketers may call them. Thus, and as applicable here, Section 227(b)(1)(A)(iii) of the TCPA specifically prohibits the making of “any call (other than a call made for emergency purposes or made with the prior express consent of the called party) using any automatic telephone dialing system or an artificial or prerecorded voice ... to any telephone number assigned to a ... cellular telephone service[.]”

3. The TCPA prohibits calls to a cell phone made with an auto dialer or with an artificial prerecorded voice unless prior express consent is given. Plaintiff never so consented.

4. Fora Financial Holdings, LLC (“Defendant”) or their telemarketing representative or lead generator called Plaintiff’s cell phone using an auto dialer and/or an artificial or prerecorded voice. Because Plaintiff had not given his consent to receive these calls from Defendant, these calls violated the TCPA.

5. Plaintiff’s cellular telephone number was also listed on the national Do Not Call Registry, a list explicitly designed to protect the public from these kind of intrusive telemarketing calls. Because Defendant or their telemarketing representative or lead generator made at least two of these robo-calls to Plaintiff, Defendant violated the Do Not Call Registry laws and regulations.

6. Defendant or their telemarketing representative or lead generator called Plaintiff’s phone using an auto dialer and/or an artificial or prerecorded voice. Because Plaintiff had not given his consent to receive these calls from Defendant, these calls violated the TCPA.

7. These are the exact scenarios Congress attempted to prevent in enacting the TCPA. Plaintiff now seeks this Court’s intervention and help in attempting to prohibit this unlawful conduct.

8. Because the calls were transmitted using technology capable of generating hundreds of thousands of telemarketing calls per day, and because telemarketing campaigns generally place calls to hundreds of thousands or even millions of potential customers en masse, Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of a proposed nationwide class of other persons who received illegal telemarketing calls from or on behalf of Defendant.

9. A class action is the best means of obtaining redress for the Defendant's wide scale illegal telemarketing, and is consistent both with the private right of action afforded by the TCPA and the fairness and efficiency goals of Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

Parties

10. Plaintiff is a resident of this District.

11. Upon information and belief Defendant is a Delaware limited liability company that solicits business in the State of Texas. Defendant has appeared in this action.

Venue

12. The Court has federal question subject matter jurisdiction over these TCPA claims. Mims v. Arrow Financial Services, LLC, 132 S. Ct. 740 (2012).

13. Venue is proper because the Plaintiff is a resident of this District.

Article III Standing

14. Plaintiff has Article III standing for his claim under the TCPA. Spokeo, Inc. v. Robins, --- S.Ct. ---, 2016 WL 2842447, at *5 (U.S. May 16, 2016). See also, Jamison v. Esurance Ins. Servs., Inc., No. 3:15-CV-2484-B, 2016 WL 320646, at *3 (N.D. Tex. Jan. 27, 2016).

15. Plaintiff was harmed by Defendant's actions of calling his cell phone while his number was on the Do Not Call Registry, without consent and with an ATDS and/or a pre-recorded voice in the following manners:

- a. Plaintiff's privacy was invaded by Defendant;
- b. Plaintiff was harassed and abused by Defendant's telephone calls;
- c. Defendant's calls were a nuisance to Plaintiff;
- d. Plaintiff's cell phone was unavailable for other use while processing the illegal calls from Defendant;
- e. Defendant illegally seized Plaintiff's cellular telephone line while it made illegal calls to Plaintiff's cellular telephone;
- f. Plaintiff's cellular telephone line was occupied by multiple unauthorized calls from Defendant;
- g. Defendant's seizure of Plaintiff's cellular telephone line was intrusive; and

h. Plaintiff was inconvenienced by Defendant's calls, by among other things, hearing his cell phone ring and having to check the calling party.

The Telephone Consumer Protection Act

15. Advances in telecommunications technology have provided benefits to American society. But those benefits are not cost-free; new technologies bring with them new ways to intrude upon individual privacy and waste the time and money of consumers. The 1980s and 90s brought an explosion of abuses of telephone and facsimile technology, including the use of auto-dialers to clog telephone lines with unwanted calls, "robo-calls" with unsolicited or unwanted, prerecorded messages, and "junk faxes" that consume the recipients' paper and ink and interfere with the transmission of legitimate messages.

16. In 1991, Congress enacted the TCPA to regulate the explosive growth of the telemarketing industry. In so doing, Congress recognized that "[u]nrestricted telemarketing . . . can be an intrusive invasion of privacy [.]" Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991, Pub. L. No. 102-243, § 2(5) (1991) (codified at 47 U.S.C. § 227).

17. Through the TCPA, Congress outlawed telemarketing via unsolicited automated or pre-recorded telephone calls ("robo-calls"), finding:

[R]esidential telephone subscribers consider automated or prerecorded telephone calls, regardless of the content or the initiator of the message, to be a nuisance and an invasion of privacy.

Banning such automated or prerecorded telephone calls to the home, except when the receiving party consents to receiving the call[,] . . . is the only effective means of protecting telephone consumers from this nuisance and privacy invasion.

Id. § 2(10) and (12); See also Mims, 132 S. Ct. at 745.

The TCPA prohibits telemarketing calls to numbers listed on the Do Not Call Registry, unless the caller has the recipient's express consent

18. The national Do Not Call Registry (the “Registry”) allows consumers to register their telephone numbers and thereby indicate their desire not to receive telephone solicitations at those numbers. See 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(c)(2). A listing on the Registry “must be honored indefinitely, or until the registration is cancelled by the consumer or the telephone number is removed by the database administrator.” Id.

19. The TCPA and implementing regulations prohibit the initiation of telephone solicitations to residential and wireless telephone subscribers to the Registry. 47 U.S.C. § 227(c); 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(c)(2).

20. A person whose number is on the Registry, and who has received more than one telephone call within any twelve-month period by or on behalf of the same entity in violation of the TCPA, can sue the violator and seek statutory damages. 47 U.S.C. § 227(c)(5).

21. The regulations exempt from liability a caller who has obtained the subscriber’s signed, written agreement to receive telephone solicitations from the caller. 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(c)(2)(ii). That agreement must also include the telephone number to which the calls may be placed. Id.

The TCPA bans autodialer and pre-recorded voice calls to cell phones

22. The TCPA's most stringent restrictions pertain to computer-generated telemarketing calls placed to cell phones.

23. The TCPA regulates, among other things, the use of automated telephone equipment, or "auto-dialers." Specifically, the plain language of section 227(b)(1)(A)(iii) prohibits the use of auto-dialers to make any call to a wireless number in the absence of an emergency or the prior express consent of the called party.

24. According to findings by the FCC, the agency Congress vested with authority to issue regulations implementing the TCPA, such calls are prohibited because, as Congress found, automated or prerecorded telephone calls are a greater nuisance and invasion of privacy than live solicitation calls, and such calls can be costly and inconvenient. The FCC also recognized that wireless customers are charged for incoming calls whether they pay in advance or after the minutes are used. See Rules and Regulations Implementing the Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991, CG Docket No. 02-278, Report and Order, 18 FCC Rcd 14014 (2003).

The TCPA imposes vicarious liability on third-parties who do not physically dial the calls

25. Under the TCPA, a seller of a product or service may be vicariously liable for a third-party marketer's violations of Sections 227(b) and 227(c), even if the seller did not physically dial the illegal call, and even if the seller did not directly control the marketer who did. In re Joint Pet. filed by Dish Network, LLC, FCC 13-54 ¶ 37, 2013 WL 193449 (May 9, 2013) ("FCC Ruling").

26. A seller is liable under Sections 227(b) and (c) when it has authorized a telemarketer to market its goods or services. Id. ¶ 47.

27. Additionally, a seller may be vicariously liable for violations of those provisions under principles of apparent authority and ratification. Factors relevant to a finding of vicarious liability include:

a. Whether "the seller allows the outside sales entity access to information and systems that normally would be within the seller's exclusive control, including . . . access to detailed information regarding the nature and pricing of the seller's products and services or to the seller's customer information."

b. Whether the outside sales entity can "enter consumer information into the seller's sales or customer systems[.]"

c. Whether the outside sales entity has "the authority to use the seller's trade name, trademark and service mark[.]";

d. Whether "the seller approved, wrote or reviewed the outside entity's telemarketing scripts."; and

e. “Whether the seller knew (or reasonably should have known) that the telemarketer was violating the TCPA on the seller’s behalf and the seller failed to take effective steps within its power to force the telemarketer to cease that conduct.”

Id. ¶ 46.

Factual Allegations

Defendant places telemarketing calls to the Plaintiff

28. Plaintiff is the owner of and user of the cellular telephone number 469-358-1358. Plaintiff is the "called party" with respect to the calls placed to his cellular telephone number. Each of the telephone calls referenced below were made to Plaintiff’s cellular telephone number 469-358-1358. None of the calls at issue were placed by Defendant to Plaintiff’s cell phone number for "emergency purposes" as specified by the TCPA, 47 U.S.C. §227 (b)(1)(A).

29. Beginning in December 2015, Plaintiff began receiving telephone calls directly from Defendant or from Defendant’s telemarketing representative who made the telephone calls as the agent for and on behalf of Defendant (all references hereinafter to Defendant will include Defendant’s telemarketing representatives).

30. On December 3, 2015 Plaintiff received 2 telephone calls from Defendant, one within a few seconds of the other indicating the use of an auto dialer. The repetitive nature of the call and that fact that one call was received so soon after the second call indicate the call was placed through an “automatic telephone dialing system” as defined in 47 U.S.C. § 227(a)(1). The calls were not answered by Plaintiff. The calling number displayed on the caller ID function was 516-453-6886.

31. On December 4, 2015 Plaintiff received another call from Defendant. The call was not answered by Plaintiff. The calling number displayed on the caller ID function was 516-453-6886.

32. On December 7, 2015 Plaintiff received a telephone call from Defendant and specifically from an individual who identified herself as “Jessica” with HCG Capital. The calling number displayed on the caller ID function was 516-453-6886. Upon information and belief HCG Capital was calling on behalf of Defendant. Jessica stated a telemarketing pitch to Plaintiff and attempted to determine if Plaintiff was qualified for Defendant’s lending services which Defendant attempted to provide to Plaintiff. In order to determine who was making the telephone calls, Plaintiff gave Jessica incorrect information regarding his identity.

33. Upon information and belief, the incorrect information supplied by Plaintiff to Jessica was then transmitted from HCG Capital to Fora Financial. Plaintiff then began receiving calls from Fora Financial.

34. On December 7, 2015 Plaintiff received another telephone call from Defendant. The calling number displayed on the caller ID function was 212-947-0100. Later that day Plaintiff received an email from a representative of Defendant, David Cohen. Mr. Cohen's email listed the same telephone number that was shown on the caller ID function, 212-947-0100.

35. On December 8, 2015 Plaintiff received another call from Defendant. The calling number displayed on the caller ID function was 212-947-0100.

36. On December 9, 2015 Plaintiff received another call from Defendant. The calling number displayed on the caller ID function was 212-947-0100.

37. On December 10, 2015 plaintiff received another call from Defendant. The calling number displayed on the caller ID function was 212-947-0100.

38. On January 4, 2016 Plaintiff received a call from Defendant during which the representative of Defendant told Plaintiff that Plaintiff was being removed from their call list. The calling number displayed on the caller ID function was 212-947-0100.

39. On information and belief all of the above calls were placed through an automatic telephone dialing system. The calls were placed without the Plaintiff's prior express written consent.

40. Plaintiff is not a customer of Defendant and has not provided Defendant with his written consent to be called on his cellular telephone number.

41. All the calls were placed to a telephone number that Plaintiff had listed on the National Do Not Call Registry for more than 31 days prior to the calls.

42. All of the calls were made by Defendants or Defendant's authorized agents and partners in Defendants solicitation scheme. Thus, all of the calls were made on behalf of Defendant.

Class Action Allegations

43. As authorized by Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of a class of all other persons or entities similarly situated throughout the United States.

44. The class of persons Plaintiff proposes to represent with respect to Count One is tentatively defined as all persons within the United States whose phone numbers were registered on the Do Not Call Registry for more than 31 days prior to receiving calls from, or on behalf of, Defendant, and who, within the four years before the filing of the initial Complaint, received more than one telemarketing call on their residential or cellular line within any twelve-month period from, or on behalf of, Defendant.

45. The class of persons Plaintiff proposes to represent with respect to Count Two is tentatively defined as all persons within the United States who Defendant directly, or through its agents, called on a cellular telephone line by the use of an automatic telephone dialing system or with a pre-recorded voice, and with respect to whom Defendant does not have evidence of prior express written consent of the called party.

46. The classes as defined above are identifiable through phone records and phone number databases.

47. Plaintiff does not know the exact number of members in the proposed classes, but reasonably believes based on the scale of Defendant's business, and the number of autodialed robo-calls that he received, that the classes are so numerous that individual joinder would be impracticable. On information and belief, the potential class members number at least in the hundreds or thousands.

48. Plaintiff and all members of the proposed classes have been harmed by the acts of Defendant in the form of multiple involuntary telephone and electrical charges, the aggravation, nuisance, and invasion of privacy that necessarily accompanies the receipt of unsolicited and harassing telephone calls, and violations of their statutory rights.

49. Plaintiff is a member of the classes.

50. There are questions of law and fact common to Plaintiff and to the proposed classes, including but not limited to the following:

a. Whether Defendant violated the TCPA by engaging in advertising by unsolicited prerecorded telemarketing calls;

b. Whether Defendant or its agents, within the four years before the filing of the initial Complaint, made more than one telemarketing call within any twelve-month period to individuals whose telephone number had been registered on the Do Not Call Registry for more than 31 days.

c. Whether Defendant placed calls to cellular telephone numbers using an automatic telephone dialing system without obtaining the recipients' prior express written consent for the call;

d. Whether the Plaintiff and the class members are entitled to statutory damages as a result of Defendant's actions.

51. Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of class members.

52. Plaintiff is an adequate representative of the class because his interests do not conflict with the interests of the class, he will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class, and he is represented by counsel skilled and experienced in class actions, including TCPA class actions.

53. The actions of Defendant are generally applicable to the class as a whole and to Plaintiff.

54. Common questions of law and fact predominate over questions affecting only individual class members, and a class action is the superior method for fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy. The only individual question concerns identification of class members, which will be ascertainable from records maintained by Defendant and/or its agents.

55. The likelihood that individual members of the class will prosecute separate actions is remote due to the time and expense necessary to prosecute an individual case.

56. Plaintiff is not aware of any litigation concerning this controversy already commenced by others who meet the criteria for class membership described above.

Causes of Action

Count One:

Violation of the TCPA's Do Not Call provisions

57. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations from all previous paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

58. The Defendant violated the TCPA by (a) initiating telephone solicitations to persons and entities whose telephone numbers were listed on the Do Not Call Registry, or (b) the fact that others made those calls on its behalf. See 47 U.S.C. § 227(c); 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(c)(2).

59. The Defendant's violations were negligent or knowing/willful.

Count Two:

Violation of the TCPA's provisions prohibiting autodialer and prerecorded message calls to cell phones

60. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations from all previous paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

61. The Defendant violated the TCPA by (a) initiating a telephone call using an automated dialing system or prerecorded voice to Plaintiff's telephone number assigned to a cellular telephone service without prior express consent, or (b) the fact that others caused the initiation of those calls on its behalf. See 47 C.F.R. 64.1200(a)(1)(iii); 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(1).

62. The Defendant's violations were negligent or knowing/willful.

Count Three:
Injunctive relief to bar future TCPA violations

63. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations from all previous paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

64. The TCPA authorizes injunctive relief to prevent further violations of the TCPA.

65. The Plaintiff respectfully petitions this Court to order the Defendant, and their employees, agents and independent distributors, to immediately cease engaging in unsolicited telemarketing in violation of the TCPA.

Relief Sought

For himself and all class members, Plaintiff requests the following relief:

66. That Defendant be restrained from engaging in future telemarketing in violation of the TCPA.

67. That Defendant, and its agents, or anyone acting on its behalf, be immediately restrained from altering, deleting or destroying any documents or records that could be used to identify class members.

68. That the Court certify the claims of the named plaintiff and all other persons similarly situated as class action claims under Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Plaintiff's counsel be named as counsel for the classes.

69. That the Plaintiff and all class members be awarded statutory damages of $500 for each violation, with triple damages for any willful or knowing violation, as provided by the law.

70. That the Plaintiff recover his attorneys' fees and costs.

71. That the Plaintiff and all class members be granted other relief as is just and equitable under the circumstances.

Plaintiff requests a jury trial as to all claims of the complaint so triable.

Respectfully submitted:
